Rookie Ramblings – What to do over a 1NT Opening with your own 15-17 Count

Contributed by Cindy Mahn

You are all ready to open 1NT when your RHO beats you to it! What to do???? Since you both have 15-17 HCP, that leaves between 6 and 10 HCP between the other two players.

It depends what system you and your partner play, but let's assume you have an agreement that a double in this situation is a penalty double. You must have a good source of tricks to make such a penalty double, as your partner could have none to very few of the remaining points. Sometimes, it is in your best interests to just pass and hope that you can set 1NT.

So, with the following hands, double. You have a good source of tricks of your own.

♠ K7	♠ A5	♠ 76
♥ AQ875	♥ AQJ763	♥ AJ9
♦ KJ87	♦ KQ5	♦ AKQJ98
♣ A8	♣ 98	♣ 53

With a flat hand like one of these, probably best to pass.

♠ J75	♠ KJ4
♥ AQ7	♥ A75
♦ KJ75	♦ KJ8
♣ A54	♣ QJ73

When 1NT has been doubled for penalties, one or other side may be in serious trouble.

- If opener's partner is very weak, he knows they are in trouble and desperate measures are called for. If he has a five- or six-card major, even with no or very few points he can make a transfer to hearts or spades (if you play systems on) or just bid his suit.
- If doubler's partner is very weak, he fears they may be in trouble but is uncertain since his partner could have 20 plus points. So, what to do?

HAND A	HAND B	HAND C
♠ 974	♠ Q8643	♠ T5
♥ T75	♥ Q76	♥ KQJ9864
♦ 863	♦ 873	♦ 9
♣ J864	♣ 92	♣ QJT

If the bidding has gone 1NT by your partner doubled by your RHO (1NT X ?)

With Hand A, pass. With Hand B, bid 2 hearts (transfer) or spades. With Hand C, bid 4 hearts.

If the bidding has gone 1NT by your LHO, your partner has doubled, and your RHO has passed (1NT X P ?)

With Hand A, pass. With Hand B, pass. With Hand C, bid 4 hearts.

Do remember to be careful when doubling 1 NT, especially if you are vulnerable and the opponents are not. If you do not have a good source of tricks, they will have a decent chance of making it, doubling their score and getting an additional 50 points for the insult.

Upgraded Club Championship Game

The ACBL awards its clubs an upgraded club championship game (extra master points at no extra cost) whenever a club is credited with ten new ACBL members. Our club has just been awarded one of these upgraded club championship games, although it probably can't be applied until we resume face-to-face bridge. Thank you to our club's newest ACBL members who earned us this game!

We encourage our other new players to join the ACBL, not only because it helps us but also because there are other benefits – for example, its wonderful monthly magazine. If you do decide to join the ACBL, please make sure our club gets credited for your membership! Click here for more information.

FOR THOSE OF US WHO REMEMBER

These great questions and answers are from the days when the Hollywood Squares game show responses were spontaneous, not scripted, as they are now.

Q. If you're going to make a parachute jump, at least how high should you be

A. Charley Weaver: Three days of steady drinking should do it.

Q. True or False, a pea can last as long as 5,000 years...

A. George Gobel: Boy, it sure seems that way sometimes.

Q. You've been having trouble going to sleep. Are you probably a man or a woman?

A. Don Knotts: That's what's been keeping me awake.

Q. According to Cosmopolitan, if you meet a stranger at a party and you think that he is attractive, is it okay to come out and ask him if he's married?

A. Rose Marie: No, wait until morning.

Q. As you grow older, do you tend to gesture more or less with your hands while talking?

A. Rose Marie: You ask me one more growing old question, Peter, and I'll give you a gesture you'll never forget.

Q. Paul, why do Hell's Angels wear leather?

A. Paul Lynde: Because chiffon wrinkles too easily.

Q. It is considered in bad taste to discuss two subjects at nudist camps. One is politics, what is the other?

A. Paul Lynde: Tape measures.

Q. It is the most abused and neglected part of your body, what is it?

A. Paul Lynde: Mine may be abused, but it certainly isn't neglected.

Q. Back in the old days, when Great Grandpa put horseradish on his head, what was he trying to do?

A. George Gobel: Get it in his mouth.

Q. Jackie Gleason recently revealed that he firmly believes in them and has actually seen them on at least two occasions. What are they?

A. Charley Weaver: His feet.

Q. Paul, what is a good reason for pounding meat?

A. Paul Lynde: Loneliness!

(The audience laughed so long and so hard it took up almost 15 minutes of the show!)

The Not-a-Penalty Double Makes for a Big Penalty

	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♦	3 ♦	5 ♦	Pass
Pass	6 ♠	Dbl	All pass

North had a very nice 19-HCP hand and opened 1♣. East passed, and South eked out a 1♠ bid. West's 2♦ overcall is normal, and now North is getting good feelings about the hand. He likes the spade fit, and he likes that the opponents are bidding his short suit. North shows his enthusiasm with a 3♦ bid, which is absolutely forcing and asks for more info from South. South shudders, but is momentarily saved when East, who can also see that this could be a big hand for N/S, tries to get in their way with a jump to 5♦. South and West pass, and North considers. South has promised only four spades and six HCP, but North reasons that the opponents have made it clear that South will have no wasted values in diamonds. Since his partner's cards should be in the majors, he thinks that 12 tricks is reasonable for his side and he bids 6♠.

Against a passive defence, 6♠ will make. The only loser for NS is the ♠A. But East, with the weakest hand at the table, has a secret weapon. He doubles 6♠.

This double is a Lightner double, not a penalty double. When playing Lightner doubles, a double of the opponent's slam by the player not on lead asks partner for an unusual lead. It says first to avoid any suits bid by the doubler's side and suggests that a ruff is available in a side suit, usually one bid by the opponents. In this case clubs is the obvious option.

A club lead would normally be the last thing that West would consider, but trusting his partner he leads the ♣8. East gets his ruff at Trick 1 and another after West wins the ♠A. Down two doubled is a top board for E/W.

More information about Lightner doubles can be found here.

E/W have seven tricks so far (two red aces and five spade tricks) and nothing will stop them from making the ace and ack of spades for nine tricks. 3♠ doubled, making. So why am I talking about this hand?

The auction strongly suggests that North/South has the balance of strength. South's double of 3♠ is penalty-oriented, suggesting good defense. How can the opponents have enough to make their contract? If it's not because of high-card strength, then they must be planning to make ruffing tricks. How do you stop them? LEAD TRUMP!

If you replay the hand after a trump lead, you will see that declarer will end up one trick short of making the contract. Many partners will say "I didn't want to pick off your honour if you had one, partner." The fact is, South's double already advertised that he had most of the missing trumps, so you are not giving declarer anything he could not have done for himself.

The rule: Always lead trump against a doubled part-score, even if it looks as if you may be giving up a trick. The only way the opponents can prevail is by means of a cross-ruff, and your goal should be to stop it.

SOLUTION

Counting your losers, you have a sure heart loser and as many as three diamond losers and two club losers.

In order to make your contract, you have to eliminate some of these losers. You obviously can't do anything about the ♥A, meaning you can afford to lose only one club and limit your diamond losers to two. Your clubs are good enough (missing only the queen and jack) that the club suit should not be a problem; however, diamonds are going to be tricky. Judging by the first two tricks, it appears likely that West holds four or five diamonds (because if East had four or more, he wouldn't be spending his jack and ten).

If this analysis is true and if West holds the ♥A, you cannot prevent your opponents from collecting three diamond tricks. When you can't make your contract if the cards lie in a particular way, you have to mentally assign the cards to lie in a way that will make it possible for your contract to make. In this case, you should mentally assign the ♥A to the safe opponent – East – and plan your play based on this assumption.

If East has the ♥A, there are two possible scenarios.

- East holds two diamonds. If so, no matter what you do at Trick 2 West can't get in to play diamonds. In this case, your ♦9 could even become a second stopper in the suit. Therefore, you do not need to worry about this scenario at all.
- East holds three diamonds. This is the worst-case scenario, because now East can get to West's hand when he gains the lead with his ♥A.

You need to hope for the best but prepare for the worst (that East holds three diamonds). To guard against this possibility, you should hold off taking your $\heartsuit A$ until Trick 3, just in case East can continue diamonds (he does). Here is the full hand.

\spadesuit A K 9		\spadesuit 8 7 2
\heartsuit K J 9 5		\heartsuit A 10 4 3 2
\diamondsuit 8 3		\diamondsuit J 10 6
\clubsuit K 10 9 8		\clubsuit J 2
\spadesuit J 10 6 4	 N W E S
\heartsuit 7 6
\diamondsuit K Q 7 4
\clubsuit Q 7 4
\spadesuit Q 5 3
\heartsuit Q 8
\diamondsuit A 9 5 2
\clubsuit A 6 5 3

As you can see, your contract is safe if you hold up your $\heartsuit A$ until Trick 3 and you later finesse West in clubs.

Reduction in Master Point Awards

Effective July 1, regular virtual club games will award only 1.25x black points, instead of the 1.5x multiplier we have all become used to. That means there are only six more glory days left! Play like there's no tomorrow.

Having said that, the ACBL is offering a regionally-rated online tournament called Endless Summer this weekend (June 25-28). Click here for more information.

As part of this tournament, the ACBL is posting daily mini bridge lessons. These free lessons are short and snappy. Be sure to check out the one on defence by our dear friend Barbara Seagram.
